ECONOMIC IMPACT OF THE FTA: A WIN-WIN FOR ALL

16th biggest EU trade in goods partner

The free trade agreement (FTA) between the EU and Vietnam, concluded in 2015, is the most ambitious trade deal ever negotiated between the EU and a developing country. The FTA will eliminate over 99% of all tariffs, and partly remove the rest through limited zero-duty quotas, known as Tariff Rate Quotas (TRQs). Tariffs on EU exports to Vietnam will be gradually removed over a 10-year period. EU duties on imports from Vietnam will be eliminated progressively over a 7-year period.

FOSTER SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT IN VIETNAM THROUGH TRADE

Vietnam's development over the past 30 years has been remarkable. Economic and political reforms under Đổi Mới, launched in 1986, have spurred rapid economic growth, transforming what was then one of the world's poorest nations into a lower middle-income country.

The FTA includes robust, comprehensive and binding provisions which will help address some of the challenges Vietnam is still facing concerning labour rights and working conditions.

FTA provisions on human rights and sustainable development

- Institutional and legal link to the EU-Vietnam Partnership and Cooperation Agreement, allowing appropriate action in the case of breaches of human rights
- Trade and Sustainable Development Chapter including binding obligations for both the EU and Vietnam with regard to a core set of multilateral standards and agreements on labour and the environment
- Creation of Domestic Advisory Groups as a mechanism for each Party to request and receive inputs from representatives of its civil society
